AWRENCIAN 1975

One can rarely say that he knows a truly great man. Life in a high school can be boring and routine for a business manager. Joe Madigan does not only do the duties of a private school business manager; he also contributes to the social and educational development of each student. Besides his daily office concerns, Mr. Madigan is also a friend and advisor to many of us. In spite of an often harried schedule, Mr. Madigan takes time out to talk to students and help us with our problems — no matter how trivial.

Many businessmen work their eight-hour days and go home only to forget about the trials of the working world. Yet, here at Lawrence, Joe Madigan often works into the evening with calm patience and sincere dedication. People may not notice such a man's total dedication both to the people and also to the efficient operation of an institution. But, we the yearbook staff and the students of Lawrence Academy would like to recognize Joe Madigan's efforts through this dedication. The Class of 1975 leaves Lawrence with a feeling of regret because each knows he will rarely again know an individual with the honesty and the dedicated concern of Joe Madigan.

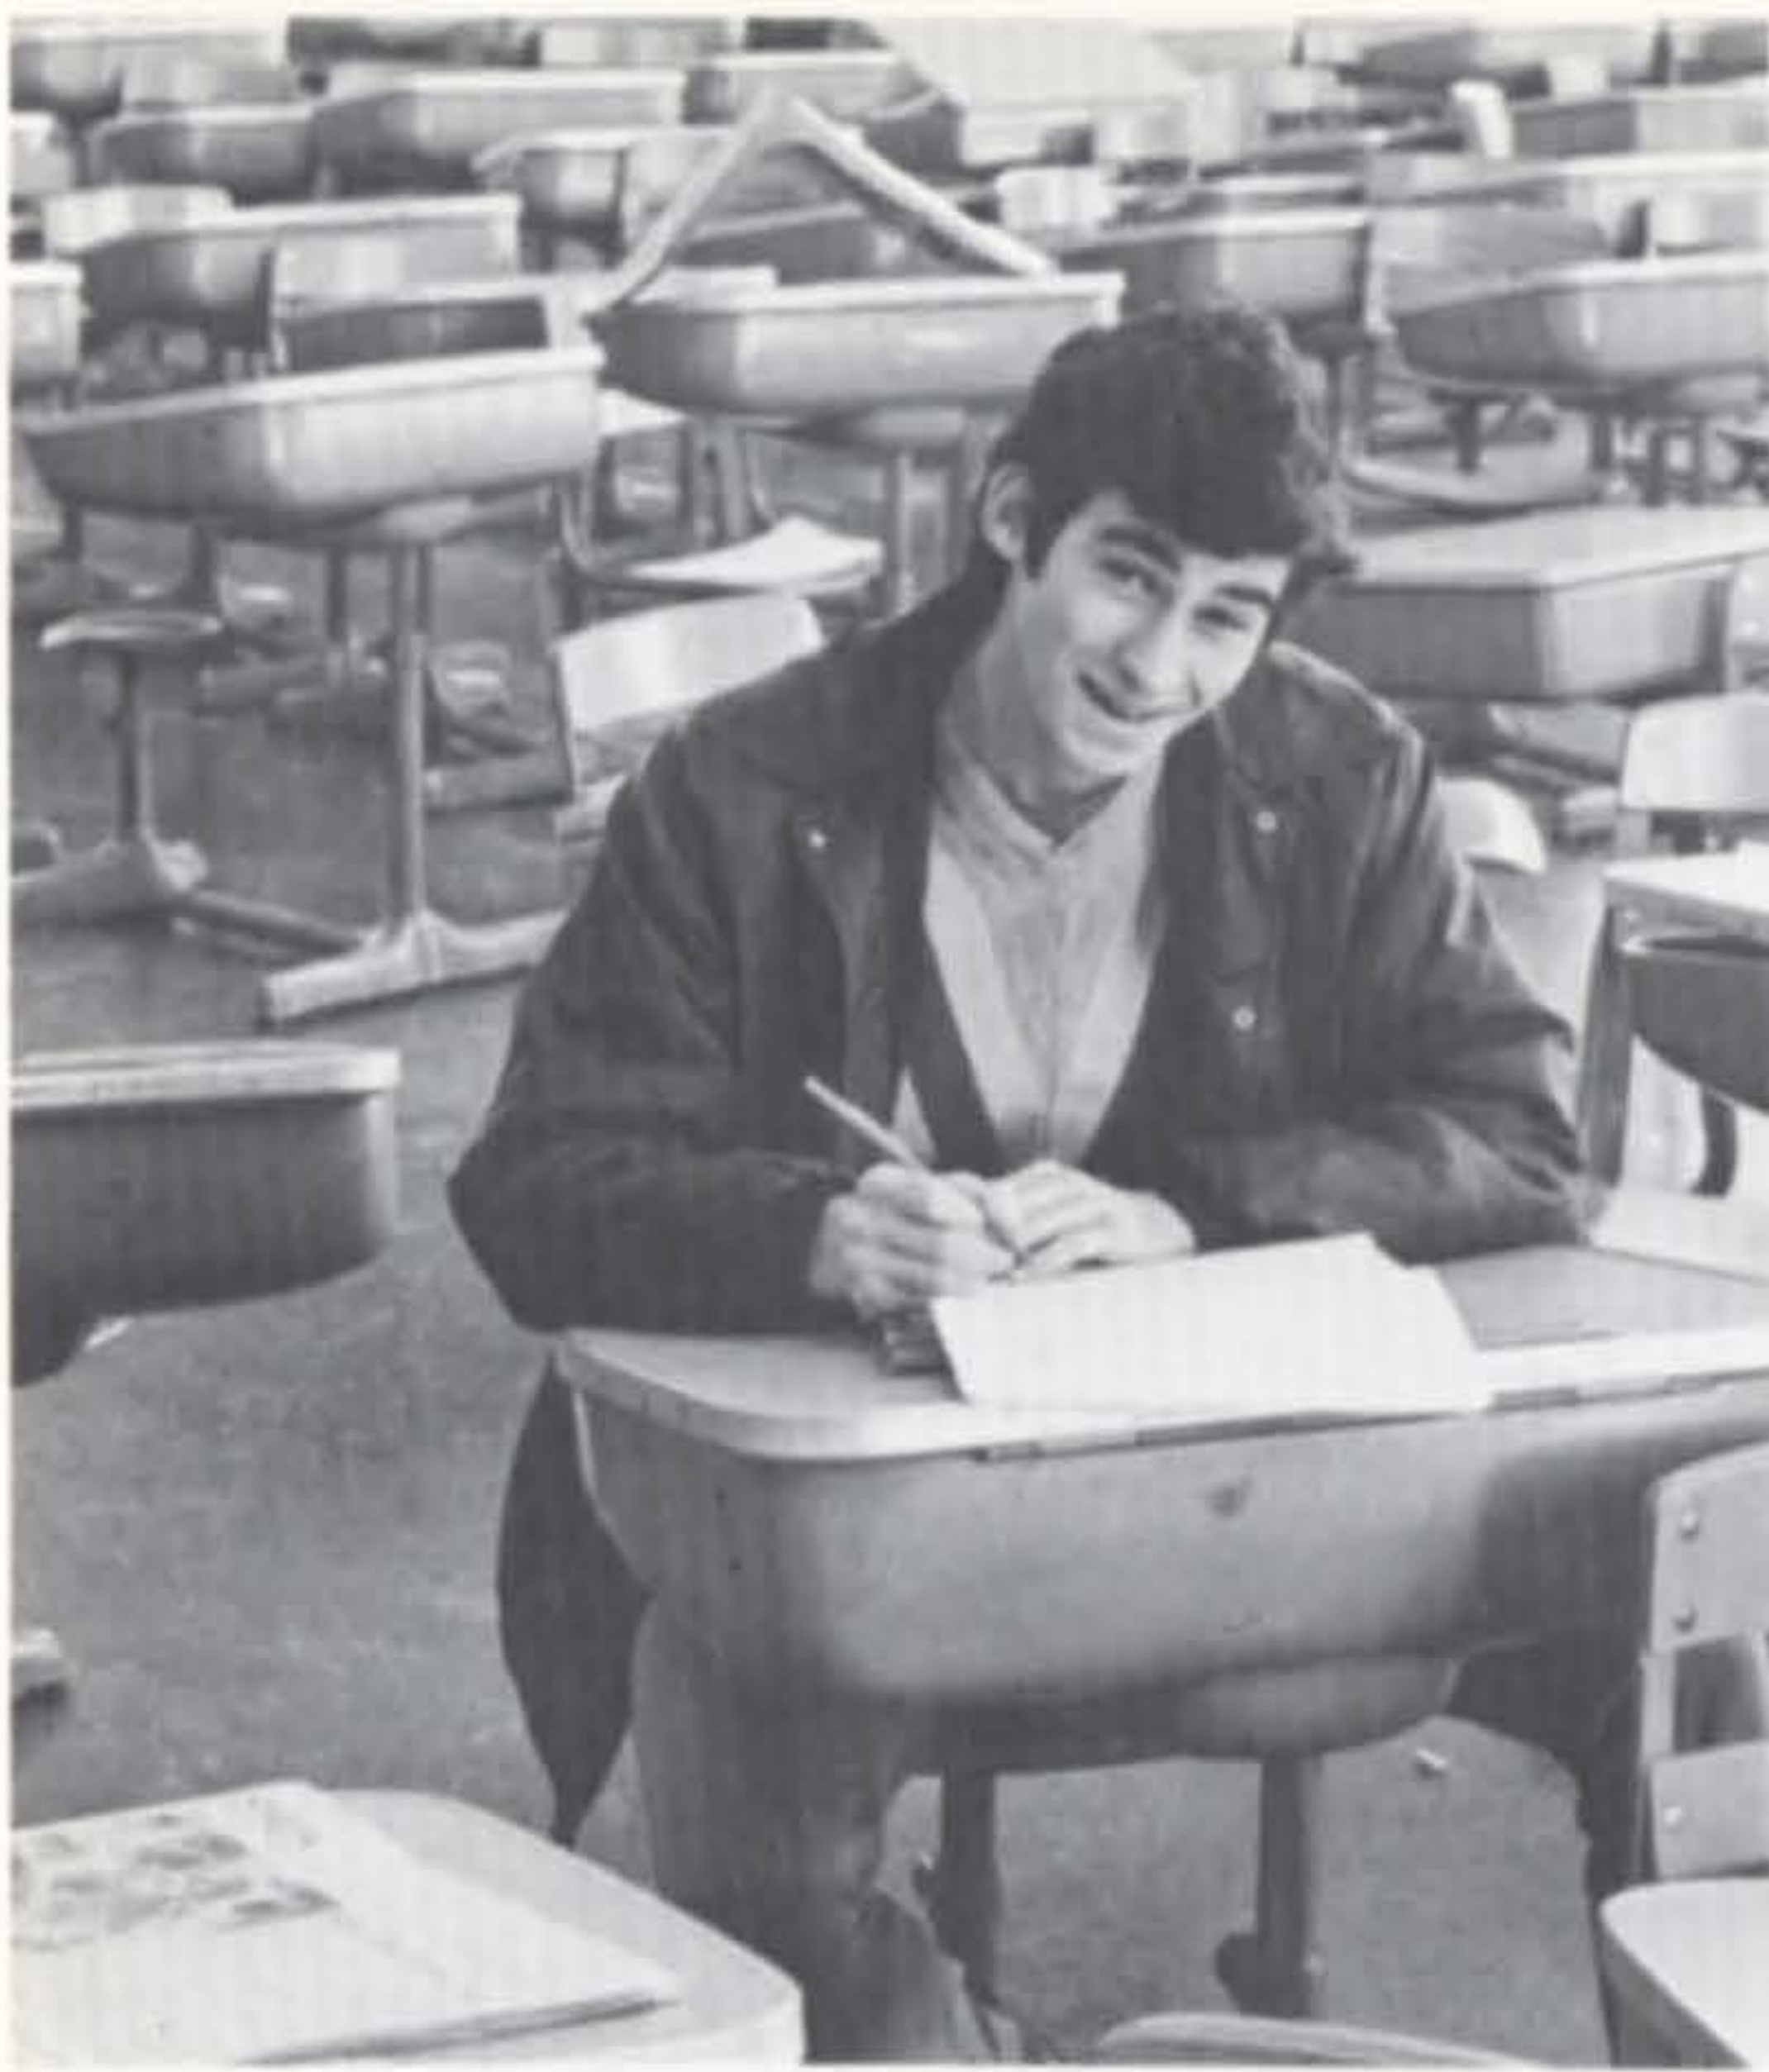

And let today embrace the past with remembrance and the future with longing.

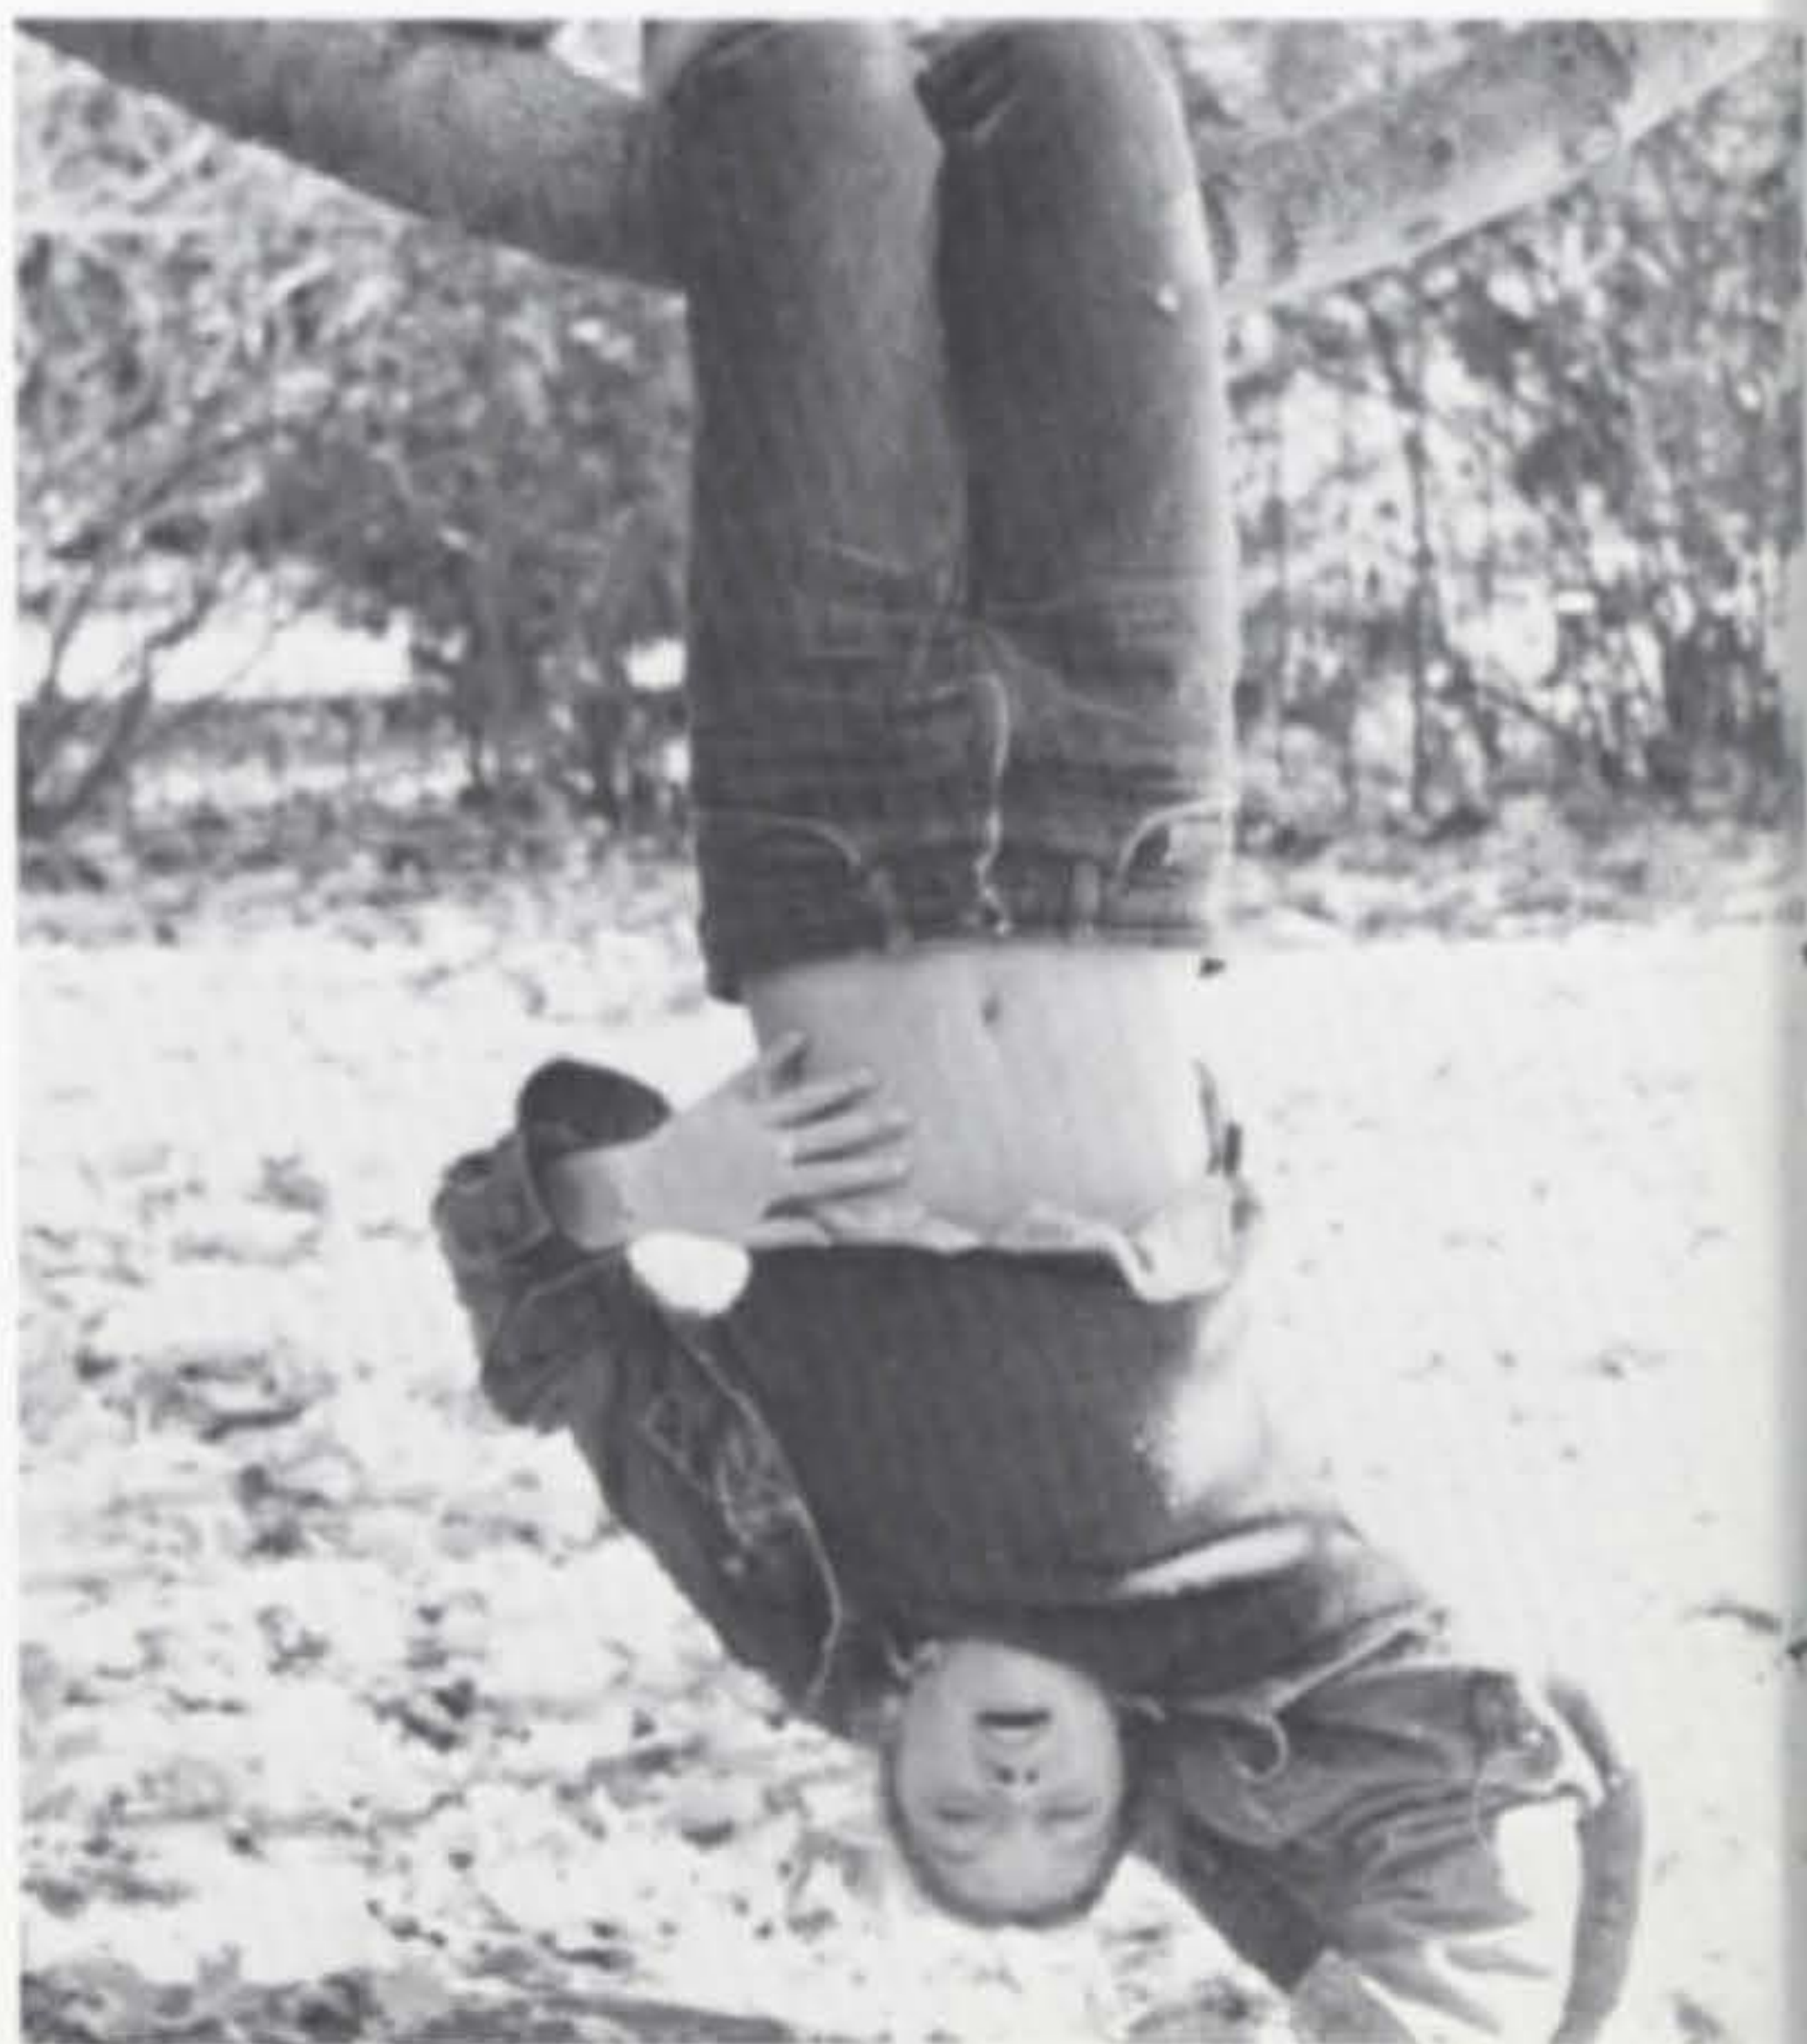

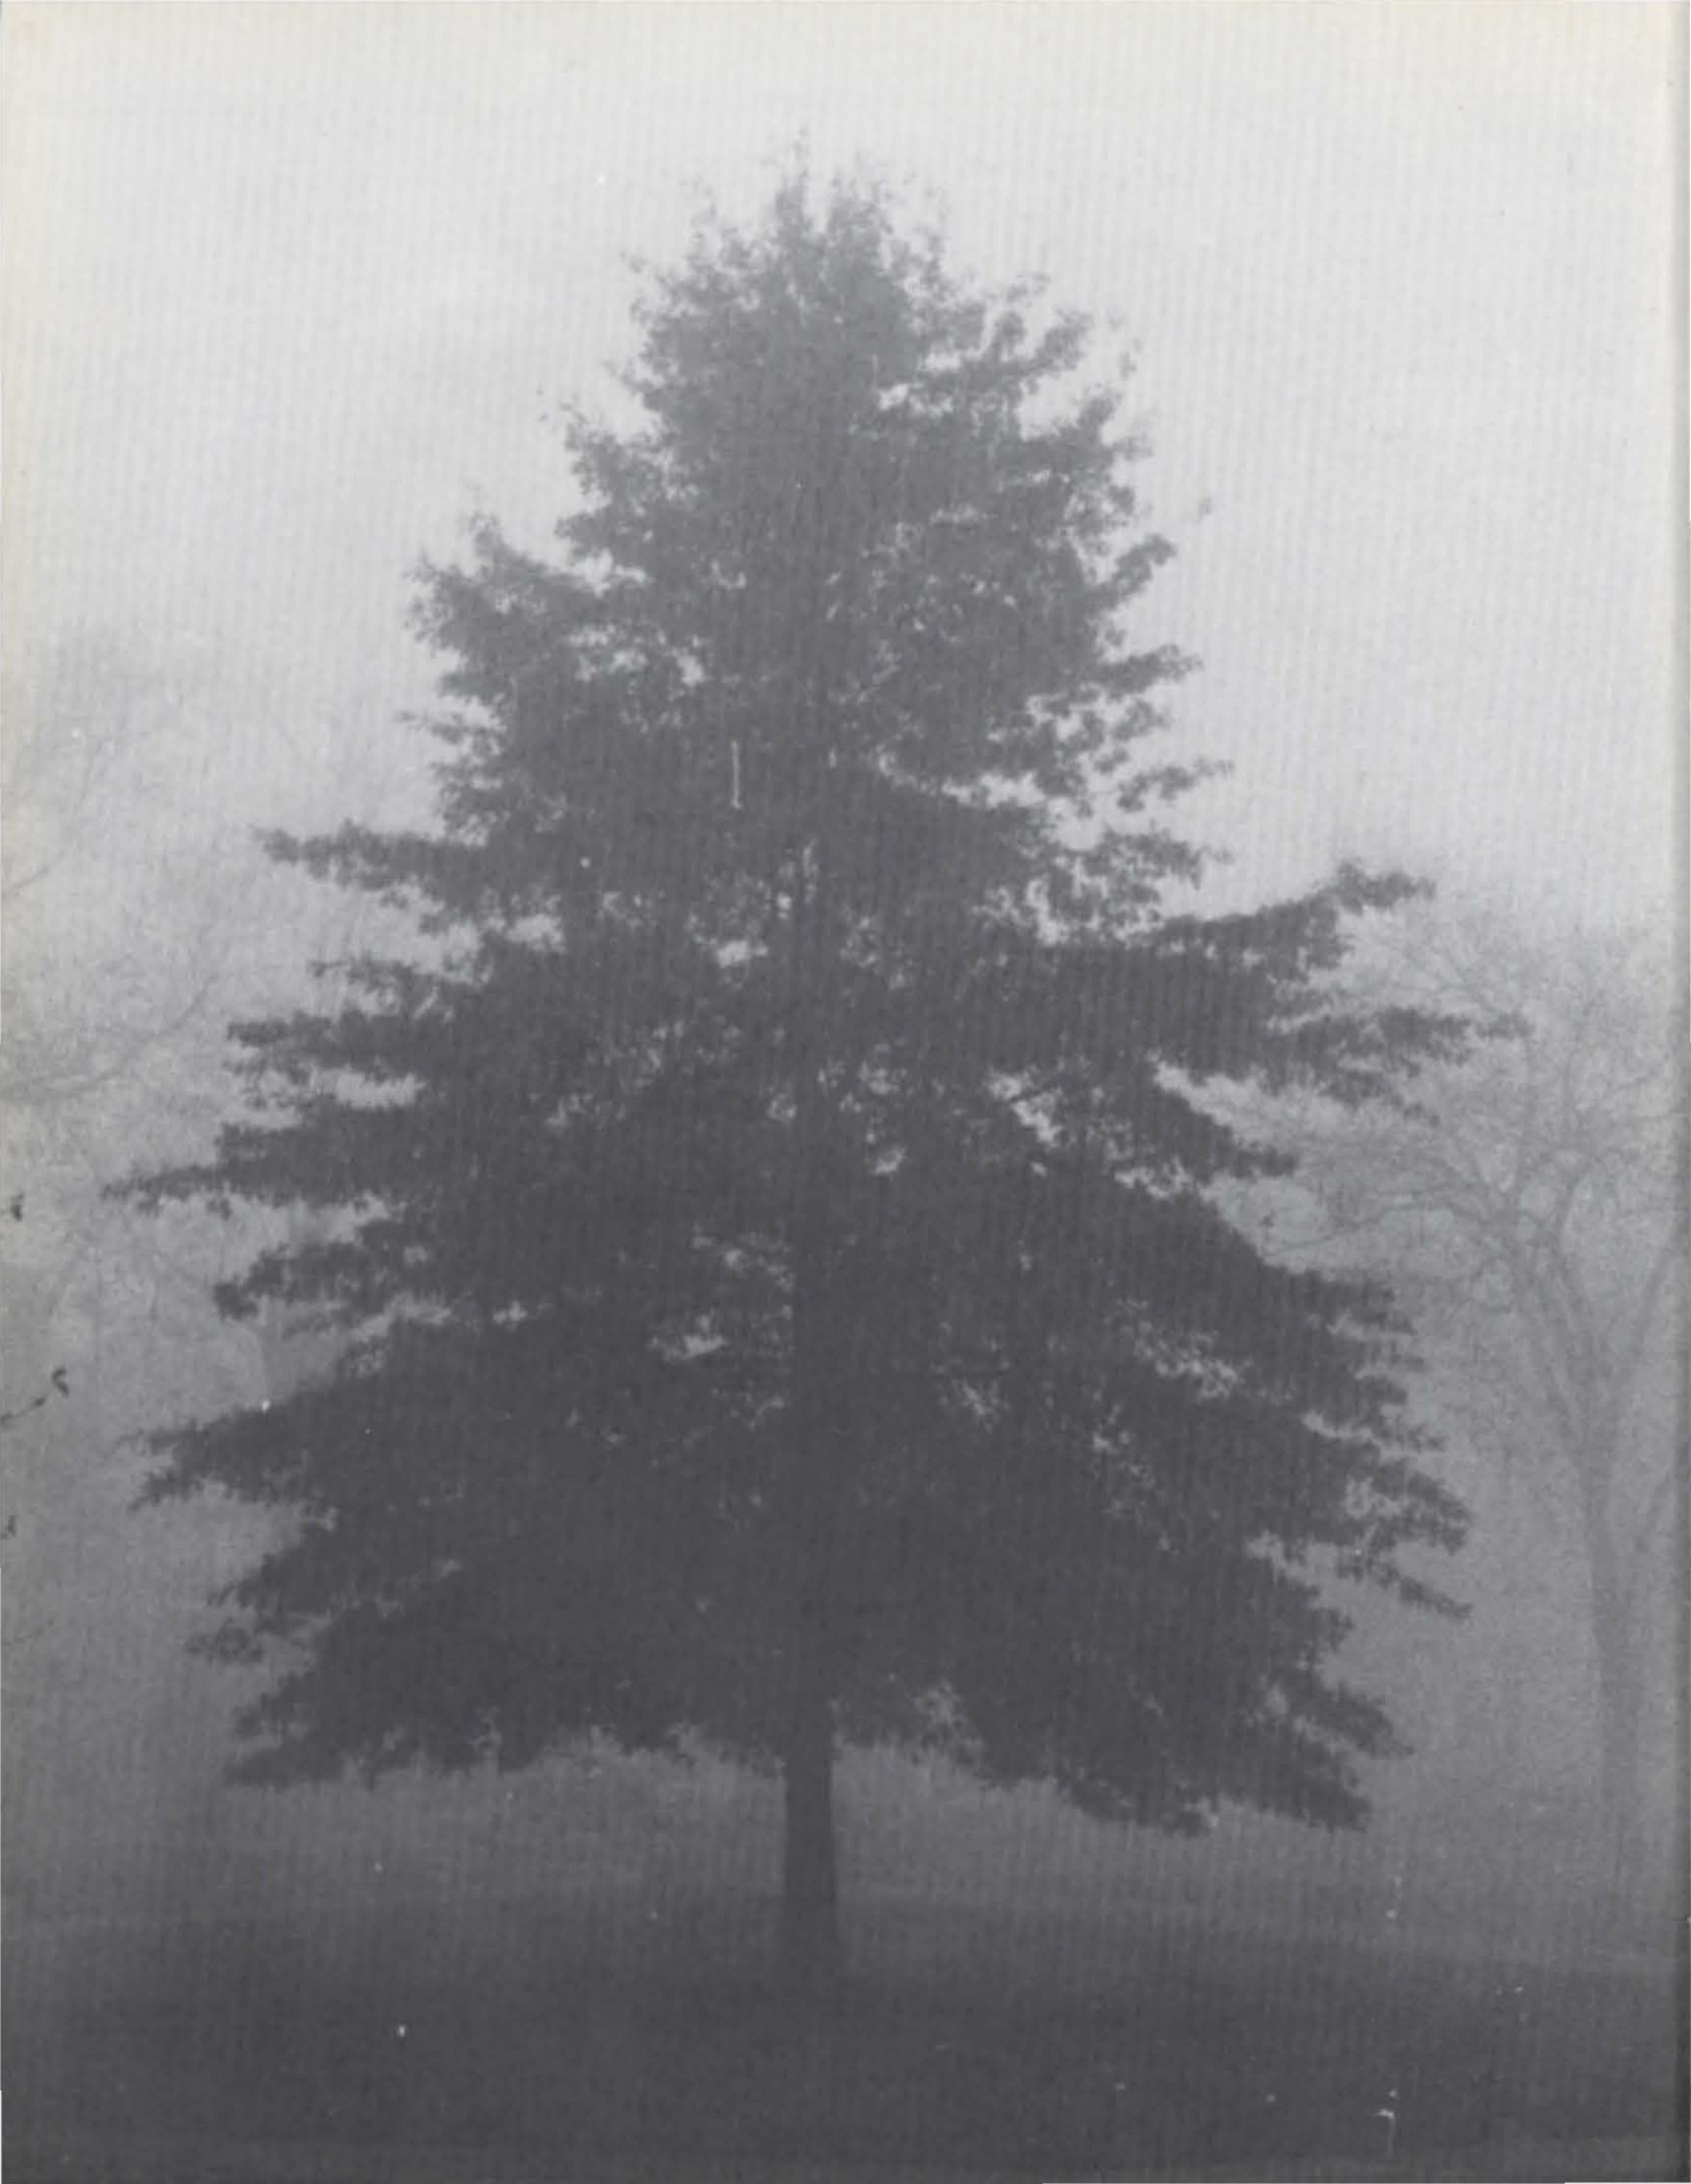

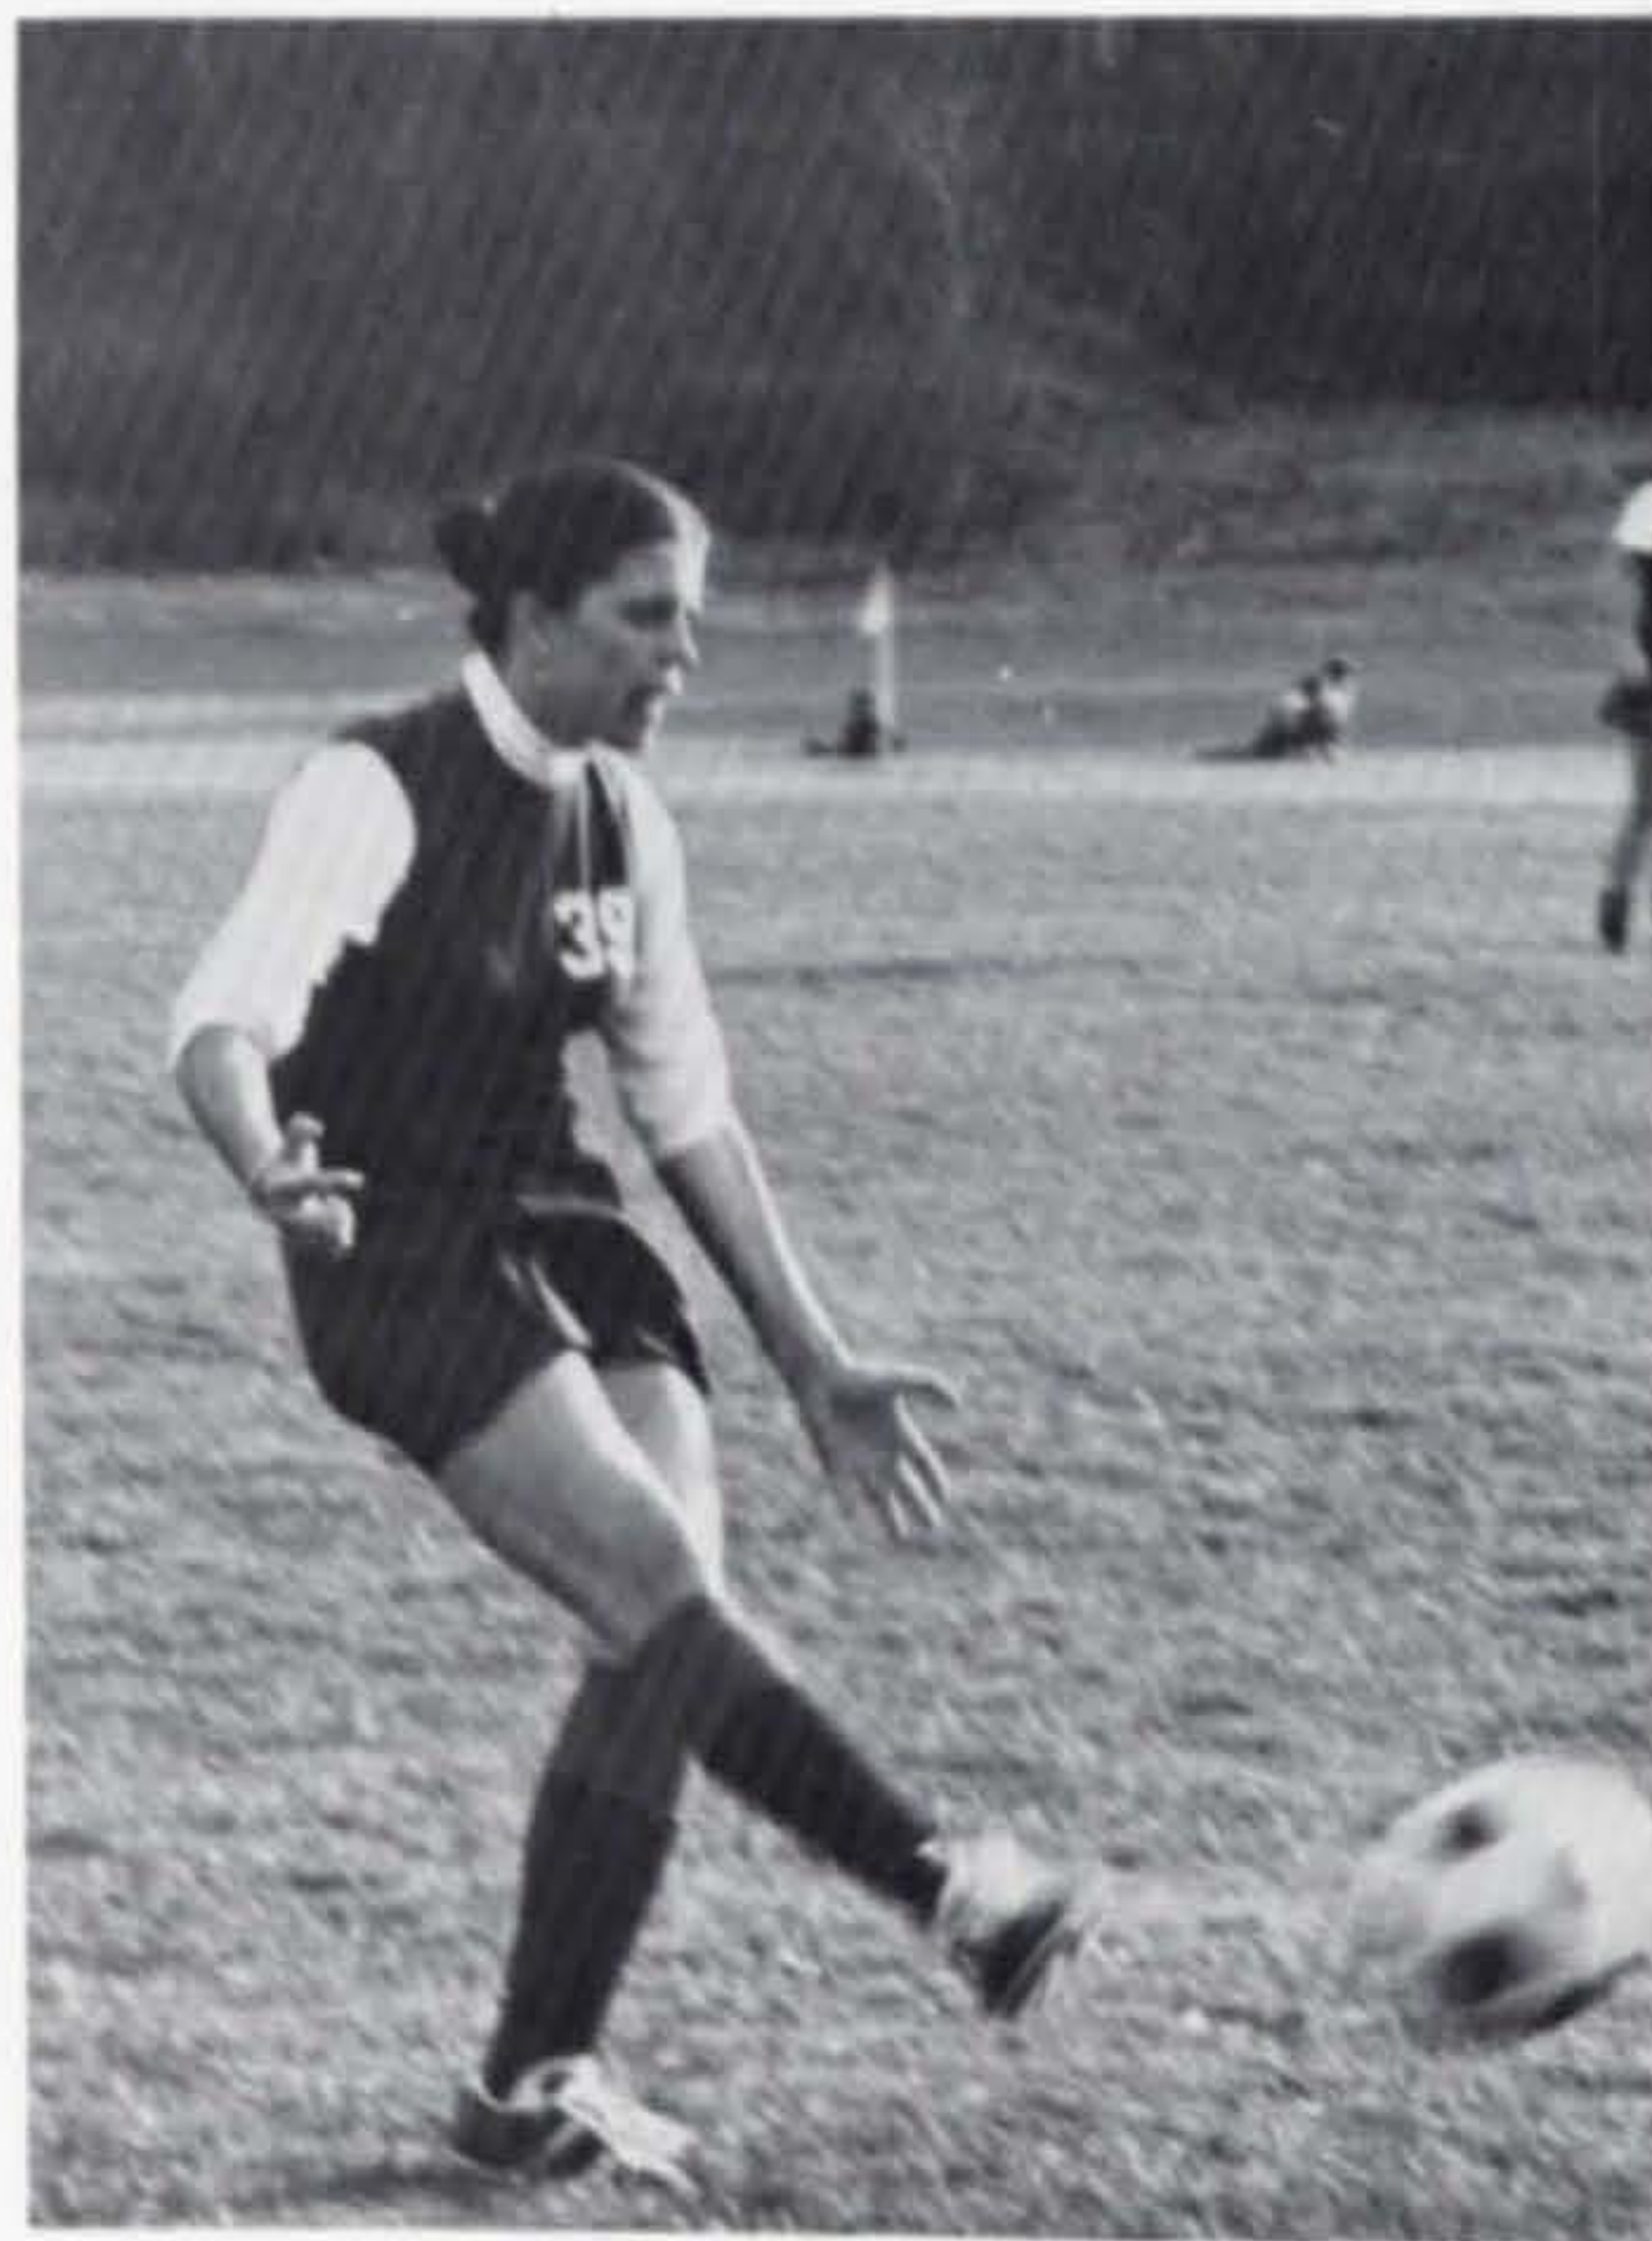

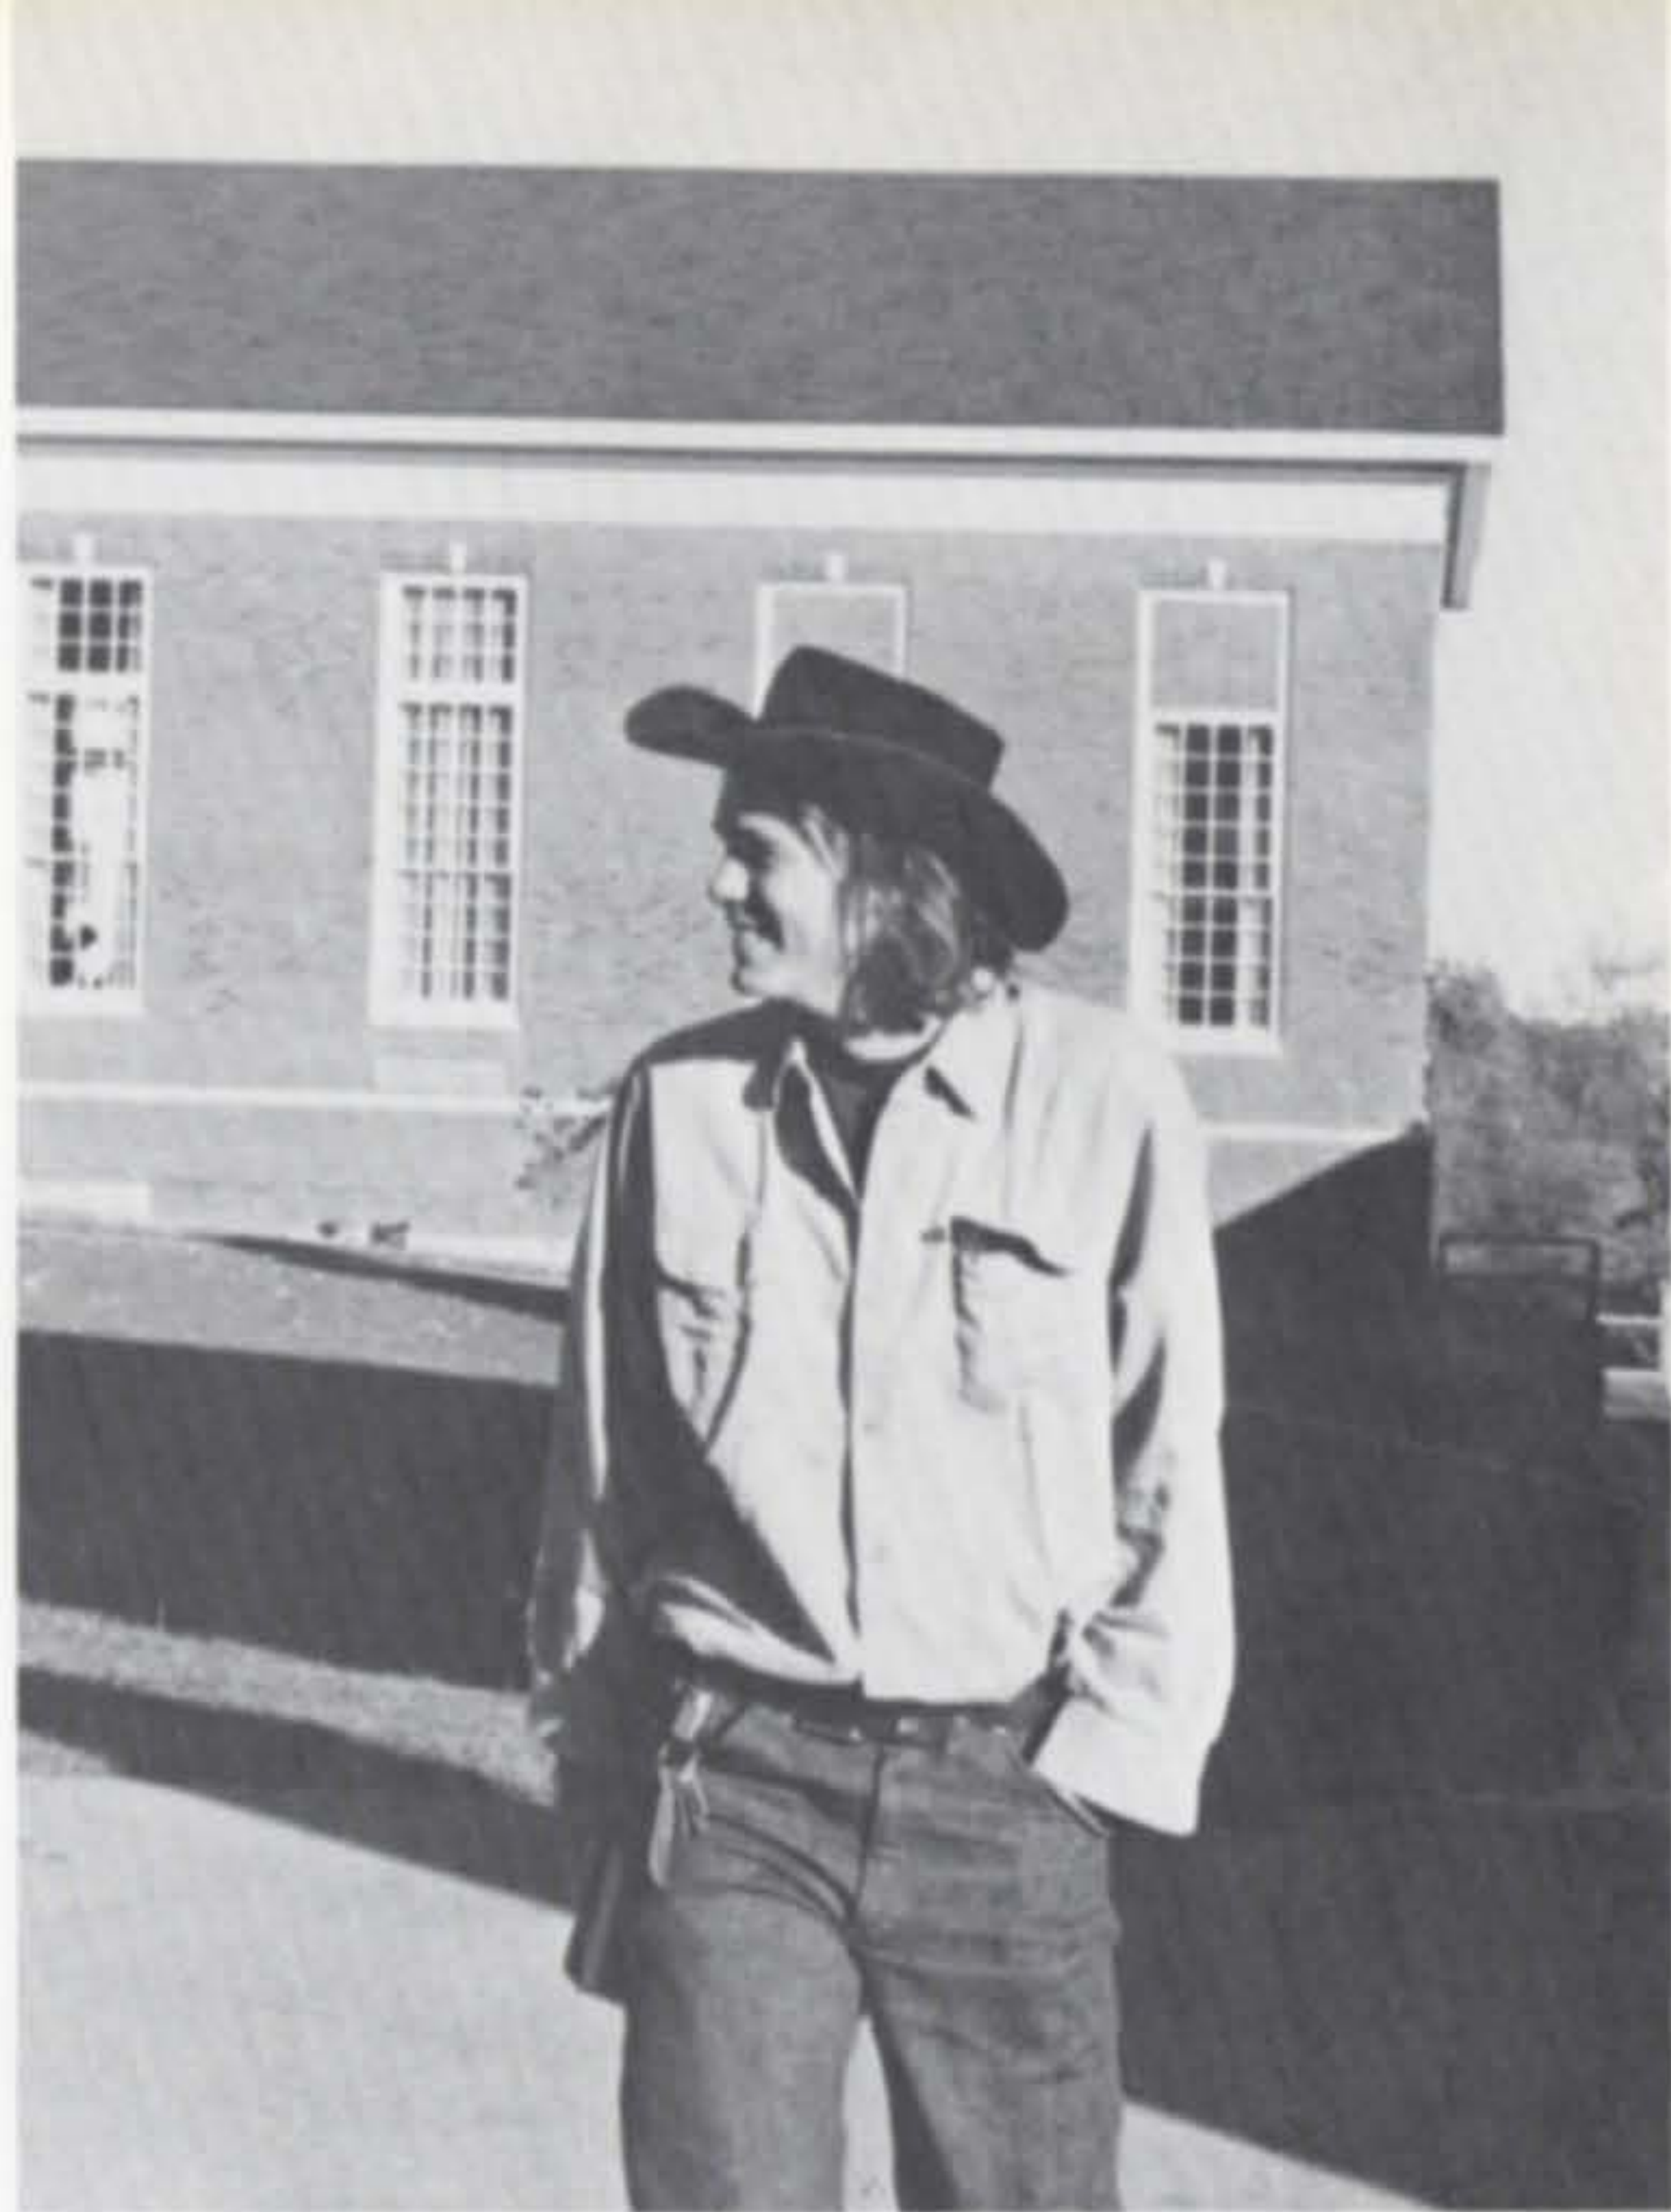

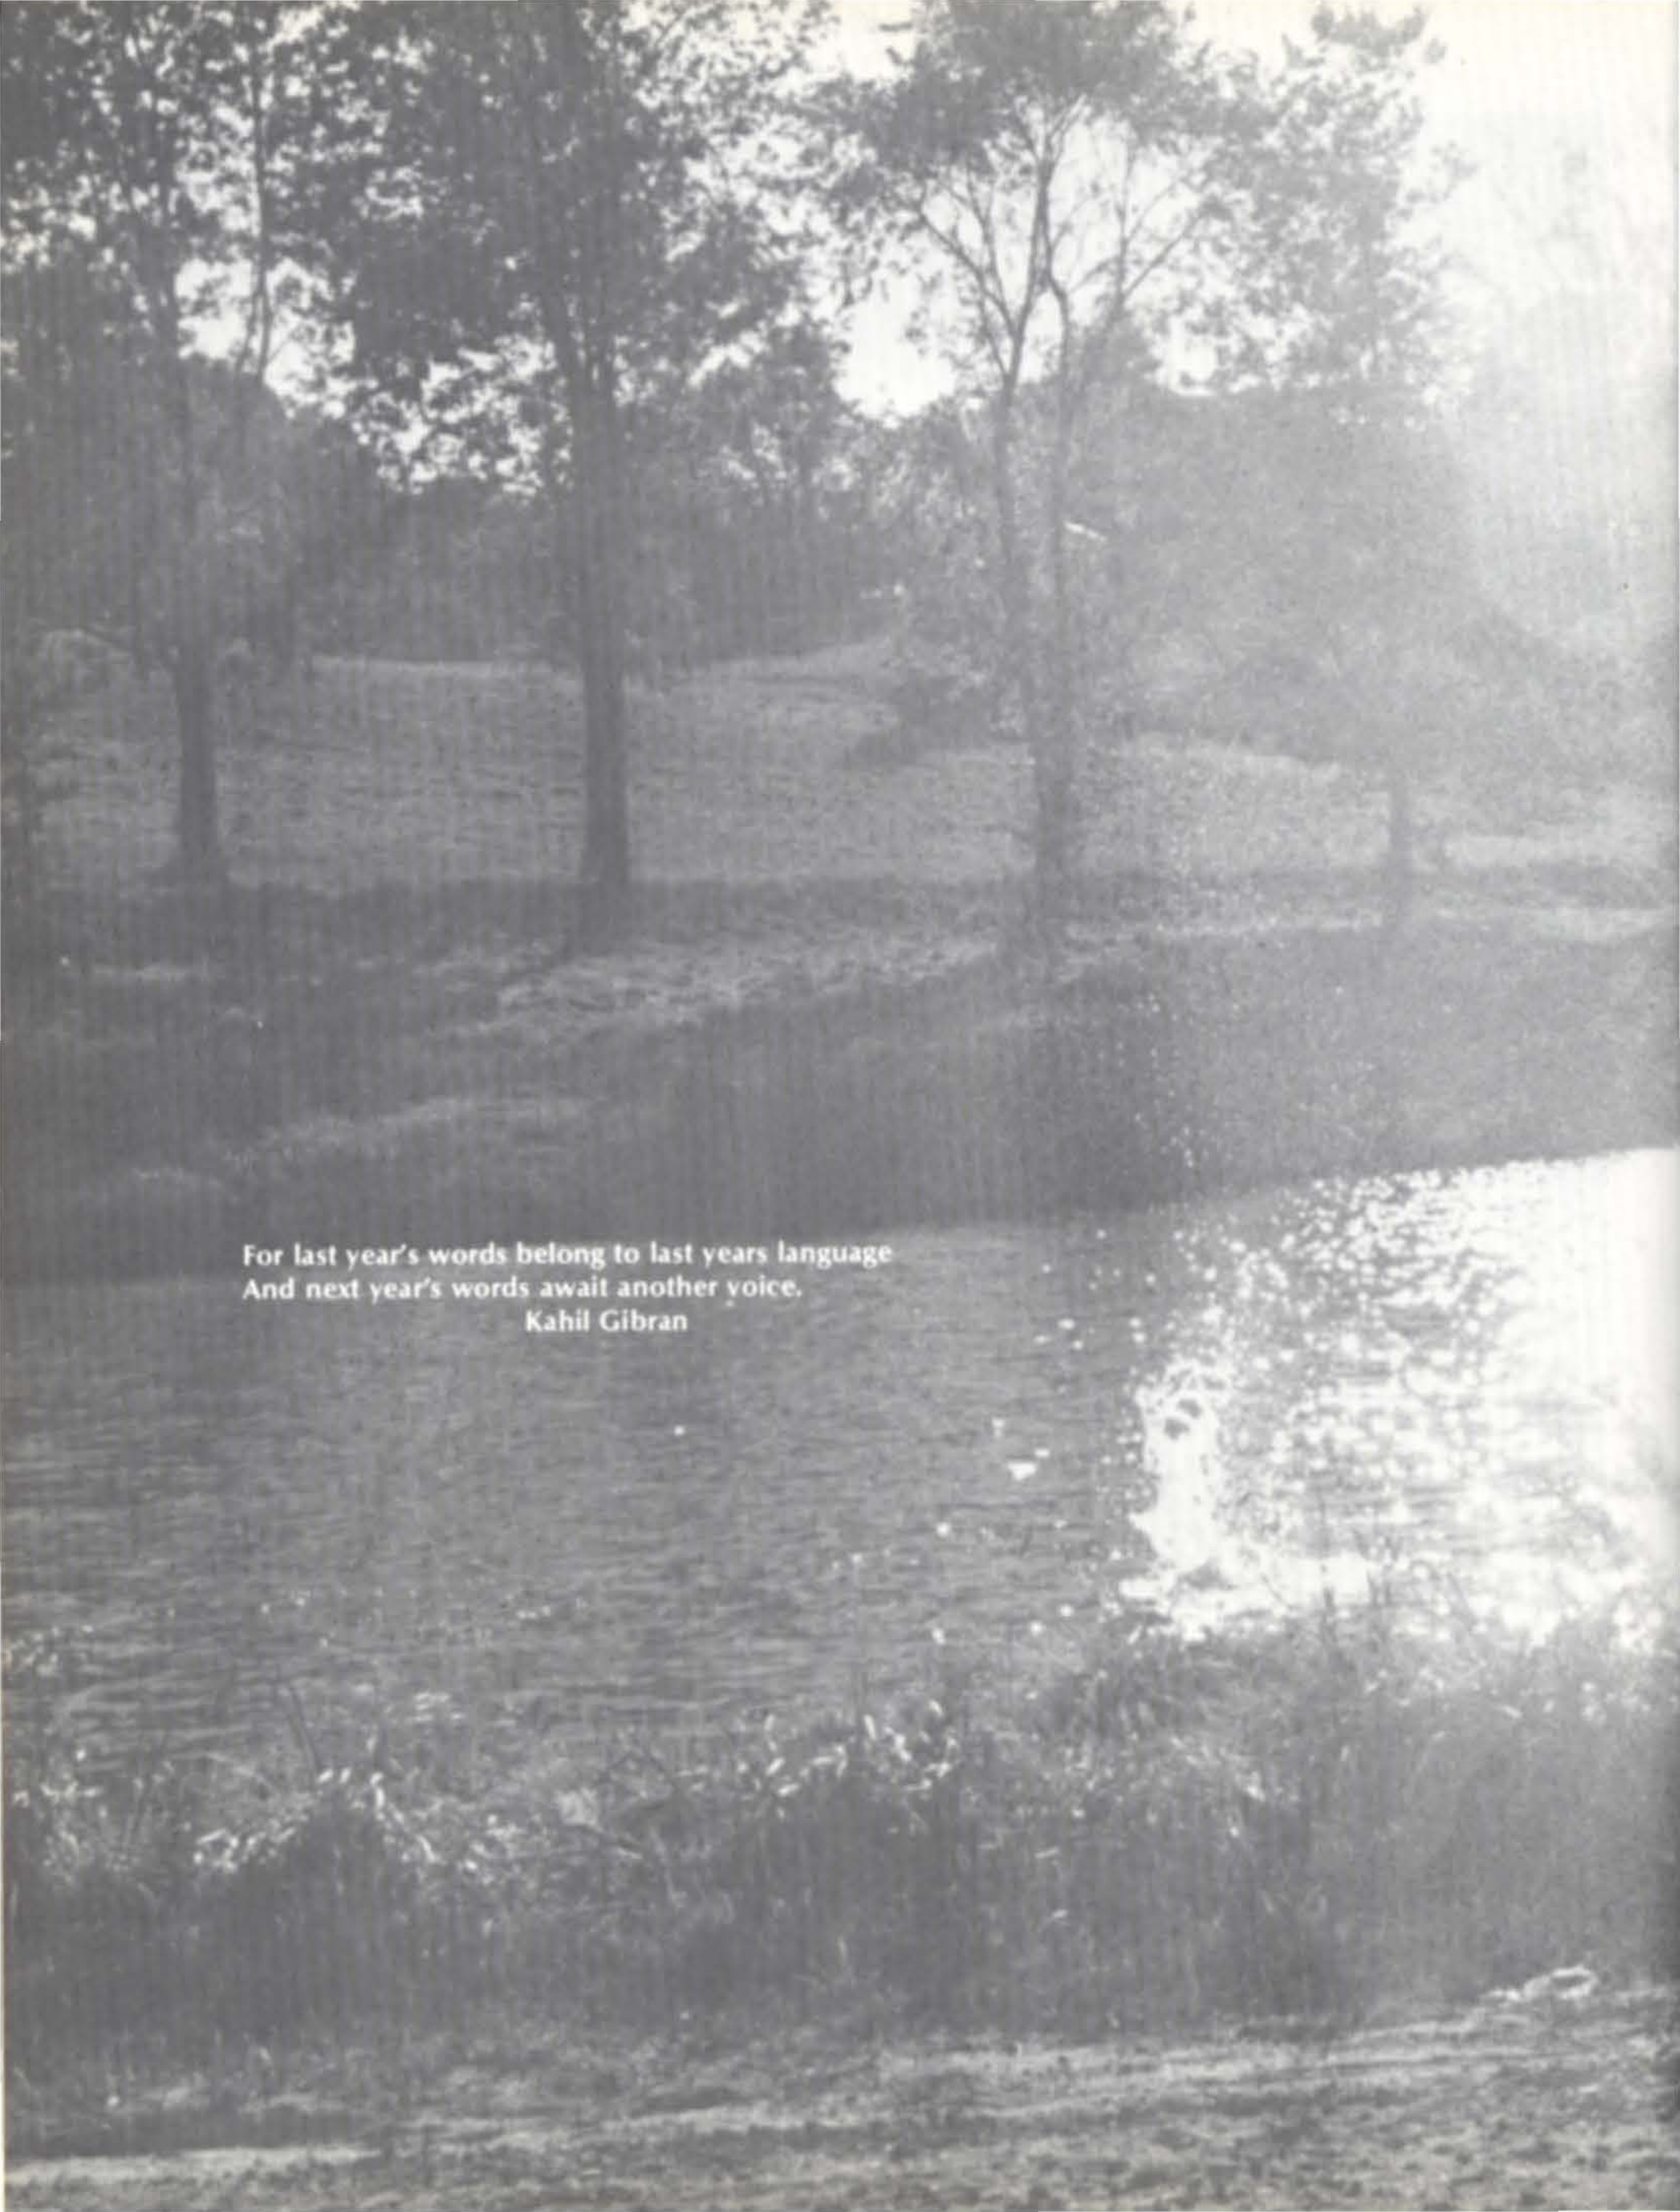

For last year's words belong to last years language
And next year's words await another voice.

Go placidly among the noise and haste and remember what peace there may be in silence.

As far as possible without surrender, be on good terms with others, all persons.

Speak the truth quietly and clearly, and listen to all, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story.

For still there are so many things that I have never seen:
in every wood in every spring
there is a different green.
I sit beside the fire and think of people long ago,
and people who will see a world
that I shall never know.
But all the while I sit and think of times there were before,
I listen for returning feet and voices at the door.

"I can easily believe that there are more invisible than visible beings in the universe. But of their families, degrees, connections, distinctions and functions, who shall tell us? How do they act? Where are they found? About such matters the human minds has always circled without attaining knowledge. Yet I do not doubt that sometimes it is well for the soul to contemplate as in a picture the image of a larger and better world, lest the mind, habituated to the small concerns of life, limit itself too much and sink entirely into trivial thinking. But meanwhile we must be on watch for the truth, avoiding extremes, so that we may distinguish certain from uncertain, day from night."

It would be an impossibility to sum up 21 years of constant service and dedication in a few lines. Here is but a token of recognition and honor for Donald W. Morse's 21 years of concern and work for Lawrence Academy.

In his many years at Lawrence, Mr. Morse has accomplished himself in many different areas. He has been teacher, coach, trainer, and counsellor as well as friend to many of us here. Mr. Morse has taught us all the basics of Chemistry. He has kept the sports teams moving with selfless hours spent on taping sprained ankles or splinting fingers in the locker room. He has advised many of us in daily problems and most importantly, Mr. Morse has been a good friend and counsellor to us in times of need.

With his quiet manner, kindness, understanding, and warm sense of humor, Mr. Morse has dedicated himself for 21 years to the Lawrence community with sincere effort and concern. Thus, the yearbook staff and the Class of 1975 dedicate this page to him to show only a portion of our great thanks for his many years of service to the Lawrence Academy.

Varsity Football

The Lawrence Academy Varsity Football team came into the world this year by defeating a solid, previously undefeated Thayer team. Amid the congratulatory applause recorded at the end of that game, we all detected a note of apprehension and concern in the air. We felt that because of our early success our subsequent opposition would no longer underrate our potential. As a result, each team in the following weeks proved stronger, more determined, and more confident in their desire to "knock off" what apparently was one of the strongest clubs around.

Certainly the memories of victories over Thayer, Brooks (28-24 in the last minute and a half) and Thompson (in spite of the boat trip) far outweigh the frustrations of St. Pauls (38-6), Rivers (14-12), and Providence (20-6). I personally will not soon forget the lessons learned this year. In spite of a losing season, I am proud to say that we worked very hard and never gave up in our pursuit of excellence. May the members of this team carry with them always the humble and personal satisfaction of knowing that they singlehandedly showed the world that Thayer was beatable and that tenacious effort will usually conquer many of life's challenges in a manner analagous to the 1974 Brooks-Lawrence game.

The J.V. football season showed an improved record of two wins and three losses. The victories were, 14-0 over Worcester Academy and 16-4 over St. Marks, while the losses were by 6-0 to Thayer, a devastating 32-0 to Groton, and 22-6 to Buckingham, Brown, and Nichols in the final five minutes of play.

With little speed in the backfield, the team had to rely heavily on Co-Captain Paul Coke's own running and passing game. He was the leading ground gainer. While on defense L.A. had much greater strength and depth, led by Co-Captain Rick Dickson and backed by Greg Brown, Dana Draper, and Greg Moffett at ends; Dave Sears at tackle; and Paul Wheatley at linebacker.

This was Lawrence Academy's first year in girl's field hockey. It was a very successful season with a 2-2-1 record led by the very capable captain Kim Angell. The team began as a recreational sport but due to a genuine enthusiasm it soon became competitive. The girls played such schools as Middlesex, B. Brown & Nichols, Nobles, and demonstrated skill and fine teamwork. The team looks forward to a winning season next year under the leadership of Jenny Johnson as captain.

The Varsity Soccer Team this year had a productive season. We put everything together and showed good results. We had a slump which we worked out to restore our original effectiveness. Every player wanted to prove that the varsity soccer team, after losing three games, could fight back and come out on top. Our team captains Keith Heingartner and Howie Boeske were a great influence to the players in motivating us to fight back. We started the season with a hot streak. We won five games over big rivals. We beat Belmont Hill and Middlesex who had beaten us last year. We were able to win these games with some help from players Scotty Corwin, Tom Magnusson, and Keith Heingartner our high scorer.

Our slump began during the Groton School game, our arch rivals. We started to game playing a good, effective, short pass game which is our style. Then, things started to fall apart. In the succeeding four games we improved at times but at others, we played terribly again.

After the loss to St. Pauls, we got together and discussed the importance of working twice as hard in order to restore our known ability. The final two games meant a great deal and each player wanted to prove that the Varsity Soccer team was a unified and spirited team. We achieved this by winning the last two games against Brooks and Rivers. L.A. finished with an 8-3-1 season.

The major aspect of soccer which L.A.'s team learned this year was that mistakes are made and from them, you improve. Through fierce dedication to the team, we proved to ourselves, to our coach, and to our school, that we were willing to benefit from our mistakes and produce a fine season.

Third Soccer, composed almost entirely of Freshmen was another good, representative club in '74. Three of the four losses were to older, more experienced J.V. teams; against our natural oponents, the record was 3-1. More importantly, twenty-plus student-athletes worked together, learned something about soccer, and had a lot of fun. Many of them will be good contributors at the second and first levels in the next three years.

The season opened on a clear day after two weeks of practice. The team included 17 members all of them returning players with the exception of Joan Milam, a new junior who played right wing. The team members all felt a great anxiety, for the first game is always a long awaited one, demonstrating what 2 weeks of practice have accomplished, and identifying what skills will require special attention. Despite a lack of organization in the first quarter, the team rallied and took the lead over Concord to win the game 1-0.

The second game against Pomfret was the most difficult. Pomfret had been undefeated since its origin. Despite sincere determination and Mr. Kullen's instructions from the sideline, Pomfret took the game 2-0 and remained the only school to beat LA Girl's Soccer. The next game against Pingree was an obvious illustration of the team's ability to work together. With 2 goals by Deedee Walsh and 1 by Heather Miller, Lawrence won the game 3-1. In the next game against Exeter, played in the pouring rain, Lawrence emerged with a 3-2 win with Lucy Crocker, Deedee Walsh, and Sue McCabe as scorers. The game against BB&N brought another victory with a final score of 3-1, and the Andover game brought still another. Andover had never scored on Lawrence in three years of competition and the girls held their title as Lucy Crocker scored the only goal of the game.

On the Saturday of the St. Paul's game, the team exhibited its greatest spirit. Ready to put up a fight against a competitor they had tied in the 1973 season, the team held its opposition to another tie after Merry Colony scored a goal in the second quarter. Barb Anderson scored the tying goal in the next game against Pingree, and the final game against Weston High proved to be a dramatic finish, not only to a great season, but for those who will not be returning next year. Merry Colony scored the winning goal against this undefeated team in the last two minutes of overtime claiming a final victory for the team.

Ten seniors will be leaving the team this year although the 7 returning players include the top two scorers. Besides these 7 will be Mr. Kullen whose expert coaching helped us meet any match with the confidence and pride necessary to achieve the outstanding record of the year.

The 1974 Cross-Country team began the season on the first day of practice with four returning runners and eight new runners. Once underway, the season did not go particularly well for the Lawrence team. However, last year's runners Tom Warner, Eric Reisman, Scott Kangas, and Will Piantedosi showed greatly improved ability. The new members of the team, Ian Douglas, Bob Male, Mehmet Eliyesil, Dan Miller, Taniel Bedrosian, Keith Pekkalla, John Kimball, and Caleb Sullivan all showed outstanding effort.

After losing the first five meets, the team was finally victorious over Worcester Academy by 5 points. In spite of subsequent losses and several injuries, the entire team continued throughout the season to show great effort and team spirit.

In his four years at Lawrence Academy, Vincent Skinner has achieved many great things. As an excellent educator as well as a concerned and dedicated individual, Mr. Skinner has contributed immeasurably to the growth of Lawrence Academy — its people and the institution. For these reasons, the yearbook staff and the Class of 1975 dedicate this page to Mr. Skinner as a token of recognition for his achievements and sincere personal involvement at Lawrence.

Vin Skinner constantly strove to achieve a quality education. He enjoyed his subject matter and had a sincere concern for the students he taught. Because of this, Mr. Skinner instilled in his students a sincere enjoyment of learning — An enjoyment that went beyond concern with superficial comprehension and encompassed a true understanding and desire to learn.

Yet, Vin Skinner was not only a great teacher; his dedication and concern for Lawrence went beyond the classroom. Mr. Skinner encouraged and developed close personal relationships between himself and his students. He was concerned not only with our performance in the classroom, but also with our own personal interests, growth, and our happiness as individuals. In this way, Mr. Skinner gave of himself not only as an educator, but also as a person.

As he leaves Lawrence, the students and the Class of 1975 will miss Mr. Skinner — the innumerable "Skinner Papers", A.P. Exams, the eternal cup of coffee. Through his concern and dedication to Lawrence, his involvement with each of his students as individuals, and most importantly, his sincere efforts as an educator searching for excellence, Vin Skinner has contributed to the growth of Lawrence as a community of individuals striving towards the common goal of educational excellence.

"... The Lawrence Academy of my experience, and I am certain that my experience is not unlike that of my predecessors, lives. It has been a year of remarkable life. We have enjoyed some extraordinary successes and we have felt some keen disappointments. There has been excitement and there has been boredom. There is and there will continue to be innovation, but we will not become unfamiliar with routine. We have closed ranks in common cause and we have on occasion been divided over keenly felt differences. There has been both joy and sadness. We have done some things very well and we have made mistakes. This is the stuff of living and we have learned from our experiences. I have avoided specifics as we are not strangers, to each other or the year, and a chronology of events strikes me as both redundant and unnecessary.

My point is that the life of this community must go on. Lawrence Academy as an institution must continue to live up to its individual responsibilities. As individuals, faculties, parents, trustees, friends, and students, we must meet our personal responsibilities. No one at this school has ever suggested that meeting one's responsibilities, given the complexity and confusion of our times, is an easy matter. Likewise, no one has ever suggested that one should withdraw from a challenge simply because it is difficult. I am confident that John Gardner did not intend to let women off the hook when he said, "It is arrogant of the individual to imagine that he has grasped the larger design of life. Who is he to say it is useless. His business as a man is to try."

That is an admonition I urge you to accept. Whatever you do, wherever you go, whomever you are in the process of becoming, do your very best.

Good luck and Goodspeed."

"And even if we are occupied with important things, even if we attain honor or fall into misfortune — still let us remember how good it was once here, when we were all together, united by a good and kind feeling which made us ... better perhaps than we are."
